

Calculus

Grading Procedure*

Tests/quizzes: All tests will be announced. Quizzes may be announced. Together they will be worth approximately 40-50% of your grade. Being absent the day before the test does not necessarily excuse you from taking the test the following day. If the test was announced on a day that you were present, you will still be expected to take the test with the rest of the class. Tests and quizzes must be made up within one week of an absence. Failure to do so will result in a "0" for that grade. Keep in mind, make-up tests are usually different than the test the rest of the class took. A grade of a "D" or "F" on a test or a quiz may be accompanied by an additional graded assignment.

Homework: Homework is the most important part of this class. It is difficult to master a topic without practicing it. Homework will be given almost every night. Homework is due at the start of the class period unless otherwise noted. All homework assignments must be complete and on time to receive credit. Homework will be worth approximately 35-45% of your grade. Even if your assignment is not done on time, you must still complete and turn it in before the end of the 9-week period. Each student must complete at least 75% of all assignments each 9-weeks. Failure to do so will result in an automatic "0.0" for the 9-week grading period.

Projects: There will occasionally be projects that you will complete throughout the year. They will usually be worth about 5-10% of your grade.

Notebook: You are encouraged to get a very large notebook for this class (3 ring binders are usually best).

Missing Class: Please keep in mind...being excused from class for activities, sports, field trips, early dismissals, etc., does not excuse you from assigned work. If you miss a class, you are still responsible for the work that was given. On the day you return from an absence, you should get the notes and assignment from someone before you come to class. If you leave early and miss class on a day that an assignment is due, you must turn in your assignment before you leave the building to receive full credit. Likewise, if you will miss a class because of a field trip, be sure to turn in your work before you leave.

~A word to the wise...this class at times will move quickly. You will have to do your best to keep up with the course. I will be available nearly everyday after school to assist you. (If you want to stay after for help, just let me know in class what day you are going to stay.) If you get far behind in this class, you will have a hard time passing.

*This grading policy is subject to change. You will be made aware of any updates.